BALATUN WINE REGION

VIBRANCE, WINES, SAILSAND YOU

A MAGIC WHERE COLOURS COME TO LIFE

A place where emerald-colour water of Lake Balaton is painted by sunlight, and the thousand-times seen, yet still amazing buttes gently line the lakeside like a pearl necklace; where Somló Hill dominates the landscape near the slopes of the Mountain Bakony as God's forgotten hat; where Kis-Balaton, a huge wetland habitat with a unique waterfowl population can be found, where fabulously named villages such as Vindornyaszőlős, Csörnyeföld, or Garabonc hide among the hillocks; where the sun ripens grapes on more than 9,000 hectares – this scenic area with rich history and natural beauties is the Balaton Wine Region.

Wine districts: Badacsony, Balatonboglár, Balaton Highlands, Balatonfüred-Csopak, Nagy-Somló, Zala

WINES OF HUNGARYOHU

Balaton Wine Region is a home to several ancient and unique Hungarian grape varieties, among them Kéknyelű is found exclusively at Badacsony in the world, indeed, witness mountain Somló is a real home of Juhfark as well. A Balaton wine is light, playful or even robust, thought-provoking, indeed, it can be bone-dry or simply lush with floral or pleasantly spicy notes, or even explosively fruity, sweet or tart, in fact, sometimes salty as well, depending on the terroir.

Wherever in the region, everyone finds a tasty wine here due to its versatility.

5 UNMISSABLE EXPERIENCES

Have a fresh fried pike-perch or zander at a lakeside bistro and drink a glass of local Olaszrizling.

Get on a sailboat from the port of Balatonboglár to the open water, have a glass of light red wine from the southern part of the lake, and admire the enchanting lights of the sunset in your drink.

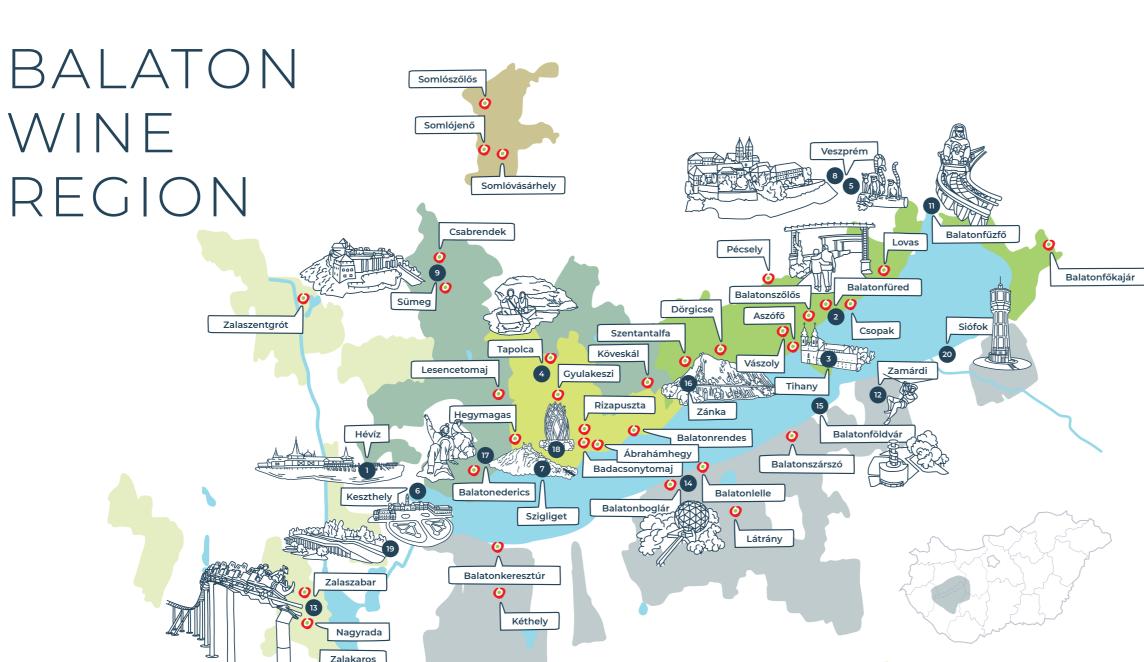

Discover Kis-Balaton by boat or on a bike, and at the end of the tour taste a great Tramini from the Zala Wine District.

Climb up the Somló Hill, admire the untouched nature from the hilltop, then settle down on a terrace of a cellar there, and wait for the night to discover the wonders of the light-free sky with a glass of Juhfark.

By sitting on the Rózsakő, a famous basalt block of Badacsony Hill, immerse yourself in the natural beauty of the landscape while sipping some Rózsakő wine made by a local winemaker.
